There are serious riots in Bohemia. The Italians are pushing ahead in Albania.

The Austrian cabinet has quit in a body.

Six thousand more Huns were caged Sunday.

A Vienna paper says: "American participation in the fighting increases the German task to one of a gigantic magnitude."

The allies have taken more prisoners than the aggregate number of their own casualties. And there is no telling how many Germans have been killed and wounded.

It is believed to be cutting the Chateau Thierry salient at its base on both sides and bottling up the retreating Huns. Wholesale capture is quite likely.

Crab Orchard Springs changed hands within two days after the press boys were there. Maybe the landlord broke himself trying to feed them this time.

Ed D. Shinnick, editor of the Shelby Record, is now secretary of the State Board of Control. He is expected to be with the board here today at the first meeting since his election.

The Huns have solved all questions of doubt as to the presence of U-boats on this side again, by having one of them attack small craft around Cape Cod bathing resort Sunday afternoon.

Hopkinsville has subscribed for $122,607.00 in War Savings Stamps. This does not include the amount subscribed Saturday at the High School, which will be four or five thousand dollars.

The auto in which an eloping couple were fleeing from Virginia to Mayking, Ky., went over a 40-foot embankment. The occupants were unhurt and finally reached their destination and were married. They literally jumped into matrimony.

A rumor reached the city last night that Senator Ollie James, who is at Atlantic City had dropped dead at two o'clock. Later it was learned that the report was not true and grew out of the fact that the Senator had a sick or fainting spell, not at all serious.

Victories for the allied armies in France continue to multiply. Over the entire sixty mile front, running from Soissons to Rheims, the allied troops are fighting with a determination that brooks no denial of their efforts. And the Germans steadily are giving ground, though stubborn resistance is being offered on some sectors.

The entire southern bank of the Marne has been cleared of enemy forces, French, British and Italian troops now are harassing those southwest of Rheims and they have been forced to fall back in the Courtin wood, the Ardre valley and near St. Euphrase notwithstanding their desperate resistance. The number of British operating with the allied forces in this region is not known. The first announcement that they were in action was made Saturday night and doubtless they represent a portion of the great reserves that everywhere are being brought up along the battle line in an endeavor to make sure the victories already won are enlarged them.

TRAFFIC IS DISORGANIZED

LARGE NUMBER OF WOUNDED ARRIVING DAILY AT THE SWISS BORDER.

(By Associated Press.)

Geneva, Switzerland, July 22.—Traffic between Rhine towns is disorganized owing to the number of wounded arriving daily from the French front in hospital trains. Trains from Germany are arriving at the Swiss frontier many hours late. The German Empress returned to Berlin yesterday in mourning.

CONSERVATION OF LABOR

TO RESULT FROM CURTAILMENT OF DELIVERIES ORDERED BY WAR INDUSTRIES BOARD.

The State division of the War Industries Board will send its representative, Eugene J. Straus, on a tour this week of the larger cities and towns of Kentucky to lay before the merchants of the country the plan for conservation of labor through the curtailment of deliveries. He will visit all the larger towns of western Kentucky including Hopkinsville. Following are the restriction of the War Industries Board that will be put into effect: Make not over one delivery per over each route. Limit the privilege of returning merchandise to three days. Curtail special deliveries in every way. Require a deposit on C. O. D. purchases. Discontinue the custom of sending goods on approval. Merchants of some cities have had this plan, or one practically as effective, in operation for several months; and such a plan has been mentioned for Hopkinsville more than once by some of our merchants but had not been put into effect. It is believed that all of the merchants will appreciate the opportunity to put the plan in operation here.

LIGHTLESS NIGHTS TO BE RESUMED THIS WEEK

Washington, July 22.—Resumption of "lightless nights," inaugurated last winter to save fuel, will become effective Wednesday, it was announced by the Fuel Administration. All outdoor illumination with the exception of necessary street lighting will be discontinued after that date on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of each week in the New England States, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and the District of Columbia and on Monday and Tuesday of each week in the remainder of the United States. The regulations under which the "lightless nights" will be carried out are the same as those put into force by the Fuel Administration last winter, with the exception of the nights designated. Street lighting will be reduced to that necessary for public safety. Roof gardens and outdoor restaurants and motion picture theaters are not affected by the order.

WITH MILITARY HONORS

GERMANS SHOW GREAT RESPECT FOR "THE BRAVE BUT INEXPERIENCED" YOUNG AVIATOR.

Amsterdam, July 22.—The death of Quentin Roosevelt is confirmed by a Wolff bureau message from the front, according to a Berlin dispatch received here. The message adds that young Roosevelt was buried with military honors by the Germans. The story of the fatal encounter, as told by the Wolff bureau correspondent follows: "On Sunday, July 14, an American squadron of twelve battle planes was trying to break through the German defense over the Marne. In the violent combat which ensued with seven German machines, one American aviator stubbornly made repeated attacks. "This culminated in a duel between him and a German non-commissioned officer, who, after a short fight, succeeded in getting good aim at his brave but inexperienced opponent whose machine fell after a few shots near the village of Chambray, ten kilometers north of the Marne. "His pocket case showed him to be Lieut. Quentin Roosevelt of the aviation section of the United States army. The personal belongings of the fallen aviator are being carefully kept, with a view to sending them later to his relatives. "The earthly remains of the brave young aviator were buried with military honors by German aviators near Chambray at the spot where he fell."

FRANCHISE ASSESSMENTS

ON A NUMBER OF LOCAL CORPORATIONS ANNOUNCED.

Frankfort, Ky., July 22.—The State Tax Commission has tentatively assessed practically all the corporations, and a record besides the railroads have been given their final assessments. The ruling of the United States Supreme Court requiring the equalization of corporation assessments of 60 per cent. of their fair cash value, like other property, compelled a reduction in many instances. The board has raised farm property 75 per cent. and that valuation has applied to corporations, which in most instances have been assessed at about 80 per cent. The following final assessments on local corporations were made: Hopkinsville Water Co., $72,300; Hopkinsville Sewerage Co., $20,000; Kentuck Public Service Co., $475,000; Crofton & Palestine Telephone Co., $500.

REFUSED TO STOP WORK.

(By Associated Press.)

Chicago, July 19.—The splendid spirit of patriotism shown by American munition workers is surpassed by one other class of toilers in the "home army," according to E. A. Russell, chief of the Chicago district, Ordnance Department. Mr. Russell, in commending the loyalty of these workers, pointed to the fact that men and women of the Winslow Brothers Company, Chicago, given the option of a holiday Independence Day, came to work as usual, the force being 98 per cent. complete. "One thousand munition workers at this plant are using Independence Day to produce one hundred fifty five millimeter shells," the employees called General Pershing.

"To know that our munition workers celebrate Independence Day by working to supply shells makes every man of us prouder to resent them in this great and noble campaign which has called us to fight."

TEN DISTRICTS OVER THE TOP

MAJORITY OF DISTRICTS UNREPORTED ON ACCOUNT OF SUPPLEMENTAL REGISTRATION.

Results of the registration last Saturday are not known yet except in a very few districts that have already reported. Many districts are holding open yesterday and today, for any who may not have been able to register Saturday. Until these reports are all in and the amounts totaled it will be impossible to give anything like a definite idea of the number registered or the amount of the W. S. S. sold Saturday or the total to date. A few districts were reported to Mrs. Kolb yesterday and ten of these went over the top for their full quota in subscriptions for stamps. Two adding machines were kept busy all yesterday afternoon and only a beginning had been made in the totaling of the returns that are in. Meanwhile the supplemental registration continues at the W. S. S. Headquarters, many names being added yesterday.

The ten districts so far reported as subscribing their full quota or more are Casky, Edgewood, Van-Cleve, Elmo, West Fork, Mannington Consolation. Other districts are expected to reach this enviable position when the reports are in.

FOLLOWING THE FLAG

Vernon Howard, who has been sick at Camp Sherman, arrived here Sunday on a brief leave of absence.

Sam E. Crawley, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Crawley, of Jessup Ave., has arrived safely overseas. This message was received here yesterday morning in a card to Mr. Crawley.

Of 32 men who left for Camp Taylor yesterday, 25 were farmers, one a musician, one a drug clerk, one a telegrapher and the others were employed at various forms of labor.

Mr. Owen D. Massie, one of the largest farmers in Christian county, has volunteered to serve the Government for the remainder of this war. This is the second time that Mr. Massie has volunteered. When the war was first declared against Germany he made a trip to Washington and offered the Government his services, but he was instructed at that time that his duty was to return to his farm and raise as large crops as possible.

Mr. Massie while in the draft age is exempt on account of the nature of his farming operations, that is, he is in class four, and in a recent reclassification, he was continued in class four by the District Board at Madisonville.

BOARD OF CONTROL.

The new State Board of Control headed by Judge Henry B. Hines, of Bowling Green, is expected to arrive here tomorrow or Thursday to visit and inspect the Western State Hospital.

SUPT. FOSTER AT EDDYVILLE.

CONSPIRACIES DISCLOSED

(By Associated Press.)

New York, July 22.—Extensive conspiracies involving bribery and graft in connection with army contracts for rubber raincoats sent to the soldiers in France was disclosed tonight by the Department of Justice officials simultaneously with the arrest of seventeen officers and employees of fifteen manufacturing companies of New York and Brooklyn on charges of bribery, fraud and conspiracy.

DOCTORS ARE PATRIOTIC

ONE FOURTH OF ALL PHYSICIANS IN THE COUNTY ARE SERVING THEIR COUNTRY.

Dr. J. W. Harned, Secretary of the County Medical Society, has received an official order to list and classify all doctors of Christian county under 55 years of age. Information is to be given about their general practice, their physical condition and whether they are the only doctors in their respective communities.

The government needs a great many more doctors. Of the 143,000 in the United States, 30,000 are already in the service, but as many more are needed. The classification now going on is the first step towards drafting such physicians as can be spared from civilian practice. There are about 45 or 50 doctors in Christian county and to the credit and patriotism of the profession let it be recorded that twenty-five per cent. of them have already volunteered.

Eleven doctors have already gone to the front and the twelfth has his orders and will leave in a few days. Following are the doctors who have volunteered, most of them making big sacrifices to do so:

Capt. F. P. Thomas, Hopkinsville. Capt. R. L. Woodard, Hopkinsville. Capt. Austin Bell, Hopkinsville. Capt. J. Gant Gaither, Hopkinsville. Capt. W. W. Durham, Hopkinsville. Lieut. Randolph Dade, Hopkinsville. Lieut. T. D. Rudd, Hopkinsville. Lieut. R. F. McDaniel.

Lieut. O. F. Miller, Hopkinsville. Lieut. Earl Thomas, Pembroke. Lieut. J. L. Barker, Pembroke. Lieut. Stanley Stroube, Edgerton. To this list might be added Dr. Ben F. Eager, who has just graduated from a Chicago school. His home is here.

IN MOVEMENT TO BOTTLE UP THE CROWN PRINCE'S ARMY

(By Associated Press.)

The Franco-American Drive into the Soissons-Rheims salient between Soisson and the Marne continues. The Germans at some points are counter attacking desperately, but their effort thus far are futile in halting the allied advance. The allies have gained further ground south of Soissons in the center line along the Ourcq river and northeast of Chateau Thierry. Additional large number of prisoners guns and much war material was taken. In the Marne region the Americans are reported well on the heels of the retreating enemy. At last reports they had advanced four miles from their old positions on the south bank of the Marne. Severe fighting is progressing between the French, British and Italian troops and the enemy southwest of Rheims, where the British have made a further advance. The German defensive was noticeably stiffened on the western side of the Rheims-Soissons salient but although large numbers of reserves are used the enemy maneuvers are in the nature of a rear guard action, probably designed to help the large forces pocketed in the salient to the south to escape. In northern France and in Flanders the British continue to harass the enemy with small attacks while the Italian and Albanian fronts are also a continuous scene of similar combats.

VAIN EFFORTS TO COUNTER

(By Associated Press.)

Paris, July 22.—Heavy German counter attacks were launched for the purpose of checking the allies' progress between the Ourcq and Marne rivers today without avail, according to a war office report announced tonight. The French and British made further advances in the region of Lacroix-Griselles as well as north east of Mt. St. Pere.

NEW REVENUE BILL FRAMED

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, July 22.—Inclusion in the new war revenue bill, which is to be designed to raise $8,000,000,000 of bonds, is a tax on all incomes of individuals, allowing exemption of one thousand dollars for unmarried and two thousand for married persons. It has been tentatively agreed upon by the House Ways and Means Committee.

Fresh Pack of Lies.

(By Associated Press.)

Berlin via London, July 22.—The war office claims that fighting in France Sunday resulted in a complete success for the German arms. The official statement issued today describes numerous heavy operations on all parts of the salient between Soissons and Rheims and declares all assaults of the allies were repulsed.

French Back at Home.

London, July 22.—French troops in Champagne, between the Suippe and Massignes rivers, have regained all of their old front lines, according to advices reaching London tonight.

GOVERNMENT TAKES CANAL

HUNGARY IN TURMOIL

(By Associated Press.)

London, July 22.—(By Wireless.)—Very serious revolts and mutinies have occurred in Bohemia and Hungary. At Zjet one hundred and fifty officers and 500 Czech-Slovaks munitioned and were shot, and further, three thousand were arrested. From a reliable source it is learned that serious mutinies have taken place in Dalmatia and Bohemia. The Jugo-Slav soldiers have deserted by the wholesale and escaped to the mountains.

GREAT THEATRE FOR TRAINING CAMP.

(By Associated Press.)

Great Lakes, Ill., July 22.—An open air theatre, the largest theater in the world, will be constructed in an immense ravine separating Camp Ross from Camp Decatur at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station, according to the Great Lakes Bulletin, official paper of the station.

Hills on either side of the natural amphitheater will be terraced in tiers two or three feet wide to form seats, with rough stone supports. Rustic finishings will fit out the entire place and the trees will form a green canopy over the spectators.

A stage already has been provided by nature in the form of an island around which a sparkling brook tumbles over rocks. A company of any size could be accommodated on the stage. Special lighting facilities will be installed and dressing rooms established.

The arrangement of the theatre will enable recruits in Detention to witness entertainments without mingling with the other sailors.

The advancing Americans are now within 15 miles of Laon, where the big gun bombarding Paris is supposed to be.

Indian scouts who were with Pershing in Mexico played a prominent part in the scout work in the Marne river fight.

Franco-Italian troops again have taken up their advance in Albania. On Saturday, says the Italian war office, Point Lozi on the crest of Mali Siloves in the bend of the Devoli river, south of El Bassan was captured. Up to July 19, 2,167 prisoners and 26 guns were captured.

Mrs. H. McDonald, of Butte, is a Democratic candidate for Congress in Montana. Her platform declares for winning the war so as to bring everlasting peace and the appointment of women to at least half of the government offices of responsibility and trust.

Prisoners captured by American troops in the offensive on the Aisne-Marne up to an early hour Saturday, totalled by actual count 17,000. Gen. Pershing reported in his communique for Sunday. This does not include those captured by the French. Capture of 560 guns also is announced.

The navy department announced Sunday that three men are known to be dead, 47 are missing and 12 are unaccounted for as the result of the sinking of the United States cruiser San Diego last Friday off the Long Island coast. The men unaccounted for are believed to have been on leave.

Chateau Thierry which represents the point in the battle line where the Germans had driven their wedge nearest to Paris was Sunday recaptured by the French troops and almost simultaneously the village of Brasles, two miles eastward and the heights to the north of the village fell into their hands.

With the capture of Chateau Thierry and the fast progress of the French and Americans eastward from the northern sectors, the plight of the Germans in the southwestern portion of the Soissons-Rheims salient becomes increasingly hazardous and it is not improbable that when stock is finally taken, large numbers of prisoners and quantities of guns and war stores will be found to have been taken by the allies. Aviators continue to lend assistance to the troops of Gen. Foch, scouting the back areas and harassing the retreating Germans with their machine guns.

RELIEF FOR STRICKEN ITALIANS

This truck of food, medicine and clothing entering Agullare, Italy, is in outpost of the great port warehouses and transportation system of many trucks which the American Red Cross maintains in Europe to supply military hospitals and to feed, clothe and care for stricken civilians.

FLORISTS TO SUFFER.

(By Associated Press.)

St. Louis, July 22.—Flowers to be seen next season at the Missouri Epitaphic Gardens, said to be among the finest of their kind in the United States, probably will be confined to those grown out of doors from seed, according to Director George T. Moore.

The fuel administration order cutting the consumption of coal by florists fifty percent has been interpreted to apply to these gardens, with disastrous results to the variety of flowers that has greeted the thousands of annual visitors.

Special dispensation has been obtained for enough coal to maintain the permanent collections of tropical plants, but the growing houses in which are propagated the budding plants transferred out of doors and the flowers that make up the floral displays will be closed.

WOULD CONNECT CHICAGO WITH NEW YORK.

The Type Used in One Year to Publish Endorsements of Doan's Kidney Pills.

Of the many kidney remedies on the market today, none other is recommended like Doan's Kidney Pills. Fifty thousand benefited people gladly testify in the newspapers of their own towns. Forty-five hundred American newspapers publish this home proof of Doan's merit. The type used in one year to tell this wonderful story would make a solid column of metal twice as high as the world's highest mountain. If placed end to end to end the lines of type would reach from New York to Chicago. These miles of good words told by 50,000 tongues sound glad tidings to any Hopkinsville sufferer who wants relief from kidney and bladder ills. Here's a Hopkinsville case. Don't experiment. Use the remedy endorsed by people you know.

J. D. O'Daniel, shoemaker, 603 O'Neal Ave., says: "I had a dull ache and soreness across the small of my back. I felt languid and my kidneys acted irregularly. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Elgin's Drug Store and they soon strengthened my back and put my kidneys in good shape."

RABBITS HELP HOMESICKNESS

Play Important Role in Making Repatriates Contented in Strange Surroundings.

RED CROSS IS CHIEF AID

Cares for Friendless and Homeless People Whom Germany Dumps Back From the Captured French Hamlets.

Bourg, France.—All repatriates are homeless, but some have friends in France who take them in. Those who are friendless as well as homeless when Germany dumps them back from the captured French hamlets are sent, according to the plans of the ministry of the interior, so many to this department, so many to that; and the departments divide them among the villages, two families here, three there.

All over the west and south of France you find them, these people who have been uprooted from their homes and transplanted to a new life. They are the victims of a cruel war, with a little of the world but a little of the world's care.

They can carry and the French government. The father of the family is dead, or missing, or a prisoner, or at the front. The daughters and the sons who work are still in Germany. Those in France were sent back because they were too old, too weak or too young to work—unless mouths to the Germans. They are the desperate problem in which our Red Cross is working.

Care for Repatriates.

The department of the Ain is typical. Bourg, its principal city, lies near enough to the Swiss border so that when six hundred people were expected, the Red Cross delegates could go to Evian and journey back with the convoys.

When the delegates met the repatriates on the train, they gave them an order which assured to each family a little of the coal which was so precious in France in cold weather. A printed letter stated that the Americans knew their sufferings and sympathized with them and would help supply them with garden tools and furniture and to get work for them.

Reducing housekeeping to its very lowest terms, the American Red Cross delegates decided that each family must have beds enough for everybody, a table, a chair apiece, a stove, something to hold water and something to cook in (there is a wonderful French utensil called a "frit-out," in which you can pretty nearly make everything), a fork apiece, a plate apiece, and one knife for the family. These furnishings are lent to the poorer families. Those who can pay, buy furniture on a sublimated installment plan; $1.25 down and small payments according to income every two weeks until two-thirds of the cost price is reached, when the furniture becomes their own.

The delegates may be able to cure the physical needs of the refugees, but they have to contend always with the terrible homesickness of an uprooted people. More than anything else in the world, these homeless people want to return to their own firesides; and for the time being, that is tragically impossible. They must be made as contented as possible in their new communities. Furniture offers one means, gardens another, rabbits a third. Many of the people have been farmers on a small scale so that a few feet of ground on which to raise soup vegetables or potatoes makes them inordinately happy. The village furnishes the garden and the Red Cross supplies tools and often seeds.

Importance of the Rabbit.

But rabbits are the crowning glory. They represent almost the only form of meat these people ever have; they can be kept in very small quarters, fed on grass gathered by the children; and they multiply with pleasing rapidity. Where it seems that a rabbit will be specially appreciated, the delegate gives money enough to buy it to the mayor of the village and asks him to look after the purchasing.

So it goes. Sometimes the gifts of a spoon or a box or some wool or something sometimes hundreds of kilos of potatoes sent to a mayor to distribute for the spring planting, dozens of blankets to cover the people when they first arrive and are housed of necessity in schoolhouses or town halls hastily converted into temporary barracks.

HOUSE SLACKER IN PAINT

Stand by Way of 100 Per Cent Red Cross Contribution and Fellow Workers Act.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—Andy Tomko, an American, stood in the way of a 100 per cent contribution to the second Red Cross War Fund by the Edgar Thompson Steel works employees. He would give nothing, he said. A delegate met him, took him by the hand and showed him his head in a barrel of paint. Then they turned him around and he saw the first first. His "I don't want to" was minus a day's work.

Three Cows and a Lily Equal Five Cows and No Lily

WE are offering you the Lily cream separator because the Lily is the machine we believe in. Its records and tests have convinced us that you can make more money from three cows and a Lily than with five cows and no Lily. That ought to interest you.

We believe in the sturdy, simple, sanitary design; the working of the few closely-grouped gears; the splash oiling system that doesn't fail; the one-adjustment feature which we will explain later.

Most of all we believe in the Lily bowl, which gets all the cream out of the milk, down to about one drop in each gallon. That's what counts.

SOLDIER BOYS

Somewhere in England.
June 19th, 1918.

Dear Mama:

I have had much time to rest since my last letter and am now considerably better. We have been going on a hike nearly every day, and yesterday our Captain took us down to the town and we saw several wonderful old buildings, as well as other strange sights. I saw a Cathedral the foundation of which had been laid in 1093, and the main heart of the structure was built about that time. It was built of hand carved stone and the figures and carvings inside of the place are more perfect than any I have ever seen. The Cathedral is very large and it has a very high vaulted roof. Some of the timbers in the roof have been in place since it was built, and they are of oak.

There are many prominent men buried in the church, including Isaac Walton and many Saxon Kings. We went into an old castle too, which was built in the 11th and 12th centuries. King Arthur's round table was fixed on one of the walls, and a statue of Queen Victoria was in the castle. An old man told us that Walter Raleigh had been sentenced to death in the hall in which we were standing, and some Queen had been executed in it. The end walls of the building were over thirty feet thick and the king had a secret listening place in one of them. Part of the castle was destroyed by Cromwell, but the court—I suppose it was—was left and some more buildings were joined on to it.

Both of the old buildings were wonderful and I enjoyed our little excursion very much.

We hiked out to a great amphitheatre several days ago, and it would have been an ideal place to have the World's Series games. There were some trenches in the valley below us, and we saw some British soldiers make a practice charge on them. They used a formation similar to the one we were drilled in at home, except they used ammunition loaded with real bullets.

There is a small recreation hut not far from where I am stationed and it is fitted up with easy chairs, tables to write on, and books and magazines. The room was furnished by the Red Cross, which believes in seeing all soldiers treated well.

On several nights we have been entertained by two Welsh soldiers who came into our barracks. One of them is very jolly and he sings and dances for us.

The Welsh soldiers are far more friendly to the Americans than the English, and there is a great rivalry between the two. The soldier I spoke of above, told us about a Scotchman (whom the Germans call "the women from Hell") who asked for his pay one day. The paymaster retorted that the Scots were more trouble than the Irish, English and Welsh put together. The Scotchman replied that the Germans told him the same thing at Christmas.

There is a picture show every night in a "Y" hut near my barracks and I go to it quite often.

It rains here every day and the climate is much cooler than at home. The nights are so cool that you need all of your cover with your overcoat and raincoat on top of that.

I am getting along fine and will write every chance I get.

With love to all.

Suffering Described As Torture
Relieved by Black-Draught.

Rossville, Ga.—Mrs. Kate Lee Able, of this place, writes: "My husband is an engineer, and once while lifting, he injured himself with a piece of heavy machinery, across the abdomen. He was so sore he could not bear to press on himself at all, on chest or abdomen. He weighed 155 lbs., and fell off until he weighed 110 lbs., in two weeks."

He became constipated and it looked like he would die. We had three different doctors, yet with all their medicine, his bowels failed to act. He would turn up a ten-cent bottle of castor oil, and drink it two or three days in succession. He did this yet without result. We became desperate, he suffered so. He was swollen terribly. He told me his suffering could only be described as torture.

I sent and bought Theodor's Black-Draught. I made him take a big dose, and when it began to act he fainted, he was in such misery, but he got relief and began to mend at once. He got well, and we both feel he owes his life to Theodor's Black-Draught."

THE LITTLE LADY

By JACK LAWTON.

Copyright, 1918, by Western Newspaper Union.

That is what the people of Farmdale called her, speculating as to her choice of their village as a place of habitation. With some, the words had an affectionate sound, but there were others who omitted the "little" and spoke of her with sarcasm.

The appropriateness of the title, however, could not be disputed. "Little lady" was the new inmate of the old Parsons place.

Farmdale young people were accustomed to labor in homes and factory, theirs the problem of living. But the great old Parsons place was opened, muslin curtains showing behind gleaming windows. The tangled garden was coaxed into order, the town boy scouts spending their spare time in the effort. Happily the little lady directed them and repaid their labors.

"What's she here for anyway?" they said, and "How is she going to spend her time?"

But the little lady only hummed her tunes, bending idly over the sundial. A young officer home from camp was tempted to turn in at the gateway to ask for a drink from the fountain; the day was hot.

"One does not realize in this peaceful setting," he said, the suffering, the privation that others are enduring across the water. War seems very unreal and far away, yet it is there."

The eyes of the little lady were sympathetic. "Yes," she agreed, but she stopped as she spoke, to train a rose about the sundial.

The official frowned as he went on his way. She had been much, too much, in his thoughts, since they had pointed her out to him, the beautiful stranger who had leased the old Parsons place. Why should he sit in judgment upon her. If she chose to remain carefree in times of seriousness and self-denial, what was that to him?

A girl stood just outside the entrance looking into the garden; she was one of the girls from the factory and her face looked worn and tired.

"I was waiting for you," she told the soldier; "I wanted to ask about Jim. When do you go over to France?"

"That we cannot tell, Josie," the officer replied. "But your brother is feeling fine. You are a brave girl to spare him for your country."

"The doctor thought I wouldn't be strong enough to keep on at the factory through the summer," the girl said, "but I reckon I wouldn't try to hold Jim back 'cause of that."

She motioned wearily toward the white-clad figure by the fountain. "Pretty soft, to be like her!" said Josie.

And as the soldier went on down the path he paused to greet a pale woman in a wheel chair. Her tall husband propelled the chair and his tense face brightened eagerly at sight of the soldier's uniform.

"When are you going back to camp?" he asked, and when upon some pretense the wife had sent her husband away she raised patient eyes to the officer's face.

"It's so hard for him not to be able to go," she said. "If it hadn't been for the accident to my hip he might have gone with the rest. I think Bert feels tied to this chair with a ball and chain. But if I am better, as the doctor promises, next year—"

"You are the kind, Nell!" the soldier exclaimed, and he pressed her hand. Yes, she was "the kind."

Old Henry was glad to see him. He asked, as he made way on the porch stone, if Ned's boat had got over safe; Ned hadn't written yet. "And if 'twasn't for Mattie here," he went on, beckoning an old neighbor from the next cottage, "her boy Ben would a-been in the fight too. Mattie's lameness held Ben back." "If I could only get along alone," said the old woman regretfully. "But I can't," she added and sighed.

Yes, there were those in this fair country also who realized the necessity of sacrifice. As the officer strode on his way he thought about these familiar people of his boyhood, anxious in the time of need to do their best.

Across his memory flashed a vision of the little lady, but he banished the picture with firm-pressed lips. There would be one more visit to the town before sailing; when he came again he would avoid the road which led past the great house, so he told himself; but that was the very road which he chose. The grounds had been cultivated wonderfully he noticed, and in the background worked a man's bent figure; "she" was not lingering near the fountain. The fact brought unaccountable disappointment. But toward him, down a winding pathway came Josie—Josie, brown, radiant, wheeling an invalid chair and in the chair was Bert's wife.

The color came and went in her face when she saw the soldier. "Come in," she called, "and let us tell you about it."

"The little lady has befriended us all," she answered, his questioning gaze. "It was what she had planned, she says, to make it possible, perhaps, for one or two men to serve their country who otherwise must have remained at home. Bert has gone and Mattie's on too. Josie helps old Henry here with the vegetable garden, while I prepare things for Mattie to cook. Soon we will be a self-supporting family."

STOLE CHILDREN'S STRAPS.

(By Associated Press.)

Amsterdam, July 22.—An extraordinary instance of Teutonic servility where uniforms are concerned has occurred at Essen. A party of three armed individuals, two in soldiers' uniforms and one in a policeman's uniform, made a round of all the schools of the town, representing themselves as authorized to collect the children's satchels. They paid a trifle in each case for the leather straps attached to them, and carried away their booty. After a few days, the whole affair was discovered to be a swindle. "How it is possible that this could have been carried on for days without anyone having the courage to challenge their authority remains one of the mysteries of this war," said the Rhenish-Westphalian Gazette.

SUB APPEARS OFF CAPE COD

AFTER HOURS OF SHELLING
SINKS FOUR BARGES AND DAMAGES TWO BOATS.

THREE ON BOARD INJURED

SUMMER CROWDS LOOK ON AT ONE-SIDED BATTLE WHICH LASTED AN HOUR.

Orleans, Mass., July 22.—A German submarine attacked the tug Perth Amboy of the Lehigh Valley railroad and her four barges, three miles off Cape Cod at 10:30 o'clock Sunday.

The one-sided battle lasted one hour and a half. The tug was burned to the water's edge by shell fire while the barges Lansford and No. 766, No. 403 and number 704 were sunk by gunfire.

The barges were bound from Gloucester for New York and only one was loaded, her cargo consisting of stone.

Of the 41 persons, including three women and five children on board, three men, Capt. Charles Ainslie of the Lansford and John Bolovich and John Vitz, Austrian members of the tug crew were wounded. Bolovich probably will lose an arm, Vitz had one hand blown off. These two were sent to the Massachusetts General hospital in Boston.

Capt. Ainslie was wounded in both arms by shrapnel and was treated at the home of J. C. Danforth Taylor of Boston.

The attack was witnessed by large crowds of summer visitors who had flocked to the cape for week end, seeking relief from the heat wave.

All accounts agreed that the submarine shooting was very odd.

Her torpedo work was no better. According to Capt. Ainslie of the Lansford, she launched three torpedoes at the tug and all went wild.

Seaplanes Make Attack.

The attack occurred only a few miles from the naval aviation station at Chatham. Three seaplanes attacked the raider with bombs, according to Rear Admiral Spencer S. Wood, commander of the first naval district. The fire was returned keeping the planes high. Finally, however, the U-boat submerged and was last observed heading south.

Tonight the tug was still afloat and it was thought she could be saved. The net result of the raid was the sinking of barges valued in the aggregate of $90,000 and the serious damaging of a tug valued at $100,000 at the expenditure of three torpedoes which it is estimated cost the German government a total of $45,000.

Looking for Collier.

The appearance of the raider so near the treacherous shoals and tide rips of the cape and her subsequent actions caused amazement to the thousands of eye-witnesses rather than consternation. Residents of the cape could not understand why she wasted shells on the fleet of barges returning to a coal port. It was reported, however, that the real prey sought by the undersea boat was a large collier northbound.

Two colliers, the Arlington and J. P. King, passed Orleans shortly before the Perth Amboy was fired upon, but both passed through the danger zone in safety.

Three women and five children did not suffer physical harm, although one of the women who had been making her first trip at sea fainted after she had been placed in a small boat. Of the children was 11-year-old boy, who at the first sound of the battle grabbed an American flag and shook it defiantly toward the U-boat. The lad was still clinging to the colors held proudly above his head when he landed on the beach.

Evidently Had Chart.

The German commander either took a long chance or had an exact chart of the dangerous shoals and shifting sand bars off the cape. It would be impossible for him to submerge to any great depth and the scene of his exploits was not one in which undersea boats might be expected to operate. Tonight he was being hunted by patrol vessels and other war craft.

SUCCESSFUL REVIVAL HELD

MUCH IMPETUS GIVEN CHRIS-TIAN CHURCH AT CROFTON
—REV. E. S. SMITH, RE-
VIVALIST.

The revival meetings held at Crofton the past two weeks by the Christian church of that town were a success in every way. Thirteen sermons were preached by Rev. Everett S. Smith, of this city, and revival services were conducted by Miss Wilhite who spent four weeks with the Ninth St. Christian church here in the interest of the Bible School movement. Miss Wilhite is an artist in her line and her work among the children is rarely, if ever, excelled.

There were 13 additions to the local church at Crofton during the meetings and the congregation was stirred to new life and made to realize newer and greater possibilities and responsibilities.

The religious awakening was attested by the liberal amount of contributions raised for the several purposes for which the church was obligated. In all $1,025 was raised. The Men and Millions Movement was given $500 of this amount. The church debt of $165 was paid off and the notes burned, a new piano was purchased for the church, the running expense of the meeting was paid, and Rev. Smith and Miss Wilhite were given liberal donations for their work. The Crofton congregation and people have just cause to feel happy over the result accomplished in so short a series of meetings. In fact, Crofton is a real town.

NICE SHOWER

DAY AFTERNOON WITHOUT WARNING.

Although the weather prediction for yesterday was "fair and warmer," a nice little shower fell in Hopkinsville and vicinity yesterday afternoon. It came as a very welcome surprise and just in the nick of time. Vegetation was badly in need of rain.

On Sunday night the Howell neighborhood had a good rain. Bluff Spring also had a good shower Sunday.

The rain yesterday did not extend far north of town and did not go southward as far as Edgerton. It appears to have been only a local shower.

TWO SHOOTINGS SAT. NIGHT

Saturday night at a negro festival at Herndon Louis McGowan killed Mose O'Neal. In a general shooting a woman was first shot in the foot and a little later O'Neal caught a bullet in his heart. McGowan made his escape, but yesterday came to town and surrendered. He claims that O'Neal was advancing on him.

The same night near Pembroke, John Hall, aged 17, shot and wounded another colored boy named Otho Trammel. He claims that the shooting was accidental while another boy named Kennedy had hold of the gun. Kennedy ran away and has not been found.

BIG SHIPMENT

OF GARMENTS FOR FRENCH AND BELGIAN CHILDREN.

The Woman's Branch of the Council of National Defense, through its committee for Belgian Relief, yesterday shipped to the Red Cross Headquarters at Cincinnati three big boxes containing more than 1400 garments for French and Belgian children. A previous shipment of 700 garments was made some time ago.

ROADSIDES BEING CLEANED

MANY PERSONS COMPLYING
WITH LAW BY CLEANING
HIGHWAYS OF WEED AND BUSHES.

The new law passed by the last legislature, requiring owners of property abutting on the public roads and highways to cut down all weeds and bushes along said public roads, is being complied with in many sections of this county. Many farmers have already completed this task on their land and much more clearing away is in progress at this time.

This law stipulates that a person owning property lying along and adjacent to a public road or highway must, between July 1 and August 20 each year, clear away all weeds, bushes and such other growth as tend to obscure the view. Hedges must be cut down so that at no time will they exceed 5 feet in height. This is a very important law, both to the farmer and the traveling public. It will add much to the appearance of the farms and the county at large and makes automobiles travel much safer where there are curves and bends to be rounded.

No obstruction to view should be allowed to remain where it is possible to remove same at reasonable cost or labor. Practically all railroad accidents to foot and vehicle passengers occur at crossings where a deep cut or other object obscures the view. People are fast beginning to realize the justice and importance of clearing the roadsides and are acting accordingly.
